The role of the PCSO

Police Community Support Officers (PCSOs) are uniformed police staff. Their role provides a visible and accessible uniformed presence, aimed at improving the quality of life in the community and offers greater public assurance.

They work as part of North Wales Police's Safer Neighbourhood Teams, supporting police officers to solve problems.

PCSO POWERS

They have a different role from their police officer colleagues, but can be designated a range of police powers by the Chief Constable which can have an immediate impact on dealing with problems. Within North Wales, PCSO's powers are listed over the next pages.

STANDARD POWERS

- To issue fixed penalty notices for cycling on a footpath.
- To issue fixed penalty notices for littering.
- To require name and address.
- To require name and address for antisocial behaviour.
- To require name and address for road traffic offences.
- To require persons drinking in designated places to surrender alcohol.
- To require persons aged under 18 to surrender alcohol.
- To search and seize tobacco from a person aged under 16.
- To seize drugs and require name and address for possession of drugs.
- To enter and search any premises for the purposes of saving life and limb or preventing serious damage to property.
- To seize vehicles used to cause alarm.
- To remove abandoned vehicles.
- To stop cycles.
- To control traffic.
- To place signs.
- To photograph persons away from a police station.
- To carry out road checks.
- To enforce cordoned areas under the Terrorism Act.
- To stop and search in authorised areas under the Terrorism Act.

DISCRETIONARY POWERS

- To enforce bylaws.
- To detain a person whom they have reason to believe has committed a relevant offence who fails to comply with a requirement under paragraph 1A(3) to give name and address or who gives an answer which the PCSO reasonably suspects to be false or inaccurate, for up to 30 minutes for the arrival of a police officer (or to accompany that person to a police station if he or she elects to do so on request).

- To issue penalty notices in respect of offences of disorder.
- To use reasonable force in relation to detained persons.
- To search detained persons for dangerous items or items that could be used to assist escape.
- To use reasonable force to prevent a detained person making off.
- To remove truants to designated premises.
- To seize drugs and require name and address for possession of drugs.
- Limited power to enter licensed premises.
- To issue fixed penalty notices for dog fouling.

DISCRETIONARY POWERS UNDER THE ASB, CRIME AND POLICING ACT 2014

- To disperse persons from a specified area.
- To seize and retain.
- To confirm the identity of a charity collector.
- To issue a community protection notice.

PCSOs work with schools and young people, as well as supporting crime and disorder reduction partnerships.

PCSOs do not:

- have powers of arrest;
- interview or deal with people following arrest;
- investigate serious crime; or
- carry out the high risk tasks that police officers perform.
